SCENES FROM THE INTERZONAL

Big time international chess returned to the Philippine scene after an absence of more than a decade with the holding of the 1990 Interzonal Championship in Manila. 64 of the world's strongest players, survivors of a gruelling 3-year series of qualifying tournaments, took part in the 3-week tournament which kicked off on June 29. The field was composed of 36 qualifiers from zonal championships, the 5th to 8th placers in the previous cycle's Candidates matches, the top 14 from the 1989 FIDE rating lists, the reigning world junior champion and 9 players nominated by the Deputy President and organizers.

Only eleven slots in the Candidates Matches were up for grabs in this tournament. The winners would join the semifinalists of the last Candidates Matches, Timman, Speelman and Yusupov. The fourteen players will meet in knockout matches. After the first round, the remaining seven will then join whosoever should lose the 1990 World Chess Championship match between Kasparov and Karpov, and the eight players will continue the candidates matches until only one remains. He will then battle the World Champion as the Challenger.

The tournament was played at the spacious Ninoy Aquino Memorial Stadium, which usually hosts basketball games. It was centrally air-conditioned and although the sometimes annoying hum from the blowers could clearly be heard, it was an inconvenience the players bore with without much complaint.

As for the temperature, well, it was another story. Some players complained that it was too hot; on other days, they complained it was too cold. Thereafter, Dr. Lim Kok Ann, the amiable International Arbiter from Singapore, brought a thermometer daily to the stadium to settle once and for all the supposedly fluctuating temperature. The complaints abruptly stopped.

At the start of the tournament, there were holes in the aluminum foil that lined the ceiling, allowing birds to enter and watch the interzonals. Chirping as they flew about the stadium, it was a wonder no one complained that his board got hit by bird droppings. The openings were soon patched up and the chirpings were minimized.

The moves were relayed to about 20 giant boards manned by barong tagalog-uniformed stewards. The stewards were picked from national masters and experts who learned much from the grandmasters as they followed their moves.

There was a press room where the reporters hacked away at their typewriters daily. It was also the center of operations for the indefatigable Joseph Dumuk and his staff who manned the communications, facilitated the work of the reporters, and sent wire reports, faxes to many points in the world. In the morning, they reproduced the computer typesetted daily bulletins which international practice requires should be available before the next round.

Another room was devoted to the post-mortem analysis of the participants. Here, chess afficionados were able to witness the depth of the grandmasters' moves as they analyzed what-could-have-beens with lightning like speed. It was also a room where some lucky chess fans managed to coax a few grandmasters to seat opposite them across the chessboard for photographs.

Inside the stadium, elegant usherettes guided the spectators to their seats and kept order among the gallery. Photographers were everywhere. Tournament rules forbid the use of flash after the first five minutes of play. This was followed but photographers using high-ASA film and zoom lenses took photographs from afar. Huebner complained. He said he could hear the clicking of the shutters. Shades of Bobby Fischer! Huebner also complained about a bum stomach and he wanted to play his game against Seirawan in a hotel room but Seirawan protested and nothing came out of it.

The tournament was a thirteen round Swiss run under the new regulations for Swiss events approved by the FIDE Congress in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico in 1989. To aid in the drawing up of the complicated pairings, the GMBSwiss computer program developed by Glenn Bordonada was used by Dr. Lim Kok Ann. The program had been used in the recently concluded World Youth Festival in Singapore and the World Juniors in Colombia. In the Philippines, it is also regularly used in all the big Swiss tournaments.

The program could pair in various ways at the option of the user. But as this was a FIDE event, the FIDE system was used. It was a surprise but a few grandmasters were not familiar with the ramifications of the new FIDE system. A seminar on the new rules was earlier organized by Dr. Lim for the grandmasters, but apparently not all attended. There were two official protests against the pairings. But, as the FIDE rules were very clear, these were promptly dismissed by the tournament appeals committee as without merit.

The players were billeted in two five-star hotels: the Manila Pavilion (formerly the Manila Hilton) and the Sheraton Plaza. As the proximity of their hotel to the playing site favored the players staying at the Sheraton, it was ruled that all of the adjourned games were to be played at the Manila Pavilion. Game time was from 2 to 8 pm. Adjourned games were played at 10 pm the same day. Shuttle buses fetched the participants to and from their hotels.

During the initial stages of the organization for this tournament, there was talk that Baguio would be the venue, as that city had hosted several international tournaments in the past. When Manila was finally chosen, there was rejoice among the many chess fans in Manila who would not have been able to watch the games in Baguio.

Unbeknownst to all, it was indeed a most fortunate choice. For one day after the awarding ceremonies, a killer earthquake, the third strongest ever in Philippine history struck and Baguio was the worst hit. Hyatt Terraces, a favorite choice by tournament organizers came crumbling down. Other hotels suffered a similar fate. Had the tournament been held in Baguio, some of the participants who could not leave at once because of flight problems or some other reason would undoubtedly have to be removed from the next rating list.

Many of the participants came equipped with a battery of seconds and portable laptop computers. Using sophisticated chessbases like the NIC Chessbase, Karpov's Chess Assistant and the old German-made ChessBase, they are able to collect the latest games on certain openings and opponents which they study before crucial matches.

Some of the players like Agdestein, Ivanovic, Ljubojevic, and Riemsdijk doubled as correspondents for their chess magazines back home. They could be seen at the Stadium press room late at night, after the games, to file their reports. Other chess correspondents like Reinhardt Fuchs of East Germany and William Watson of England and Vince MacCambridge of the USA came on their own.

Joel Lautier, who at 17 is the world's youngest grandmaster, is a hero back home. He came here with both of his parents. Lev Polugayevsky was his second. All of their expenses were footed by his corporate sponsor in France. He commands such a following in his country that his games were faxed to France every 10 moves or so. After a very fine start, it was a pity that he failed to make the cut.

The Philippine Sports Commission with Chairman Cecil Hechanova and Commissioner Jun Castro at the helm, organized the tournament in cooperation with the Philippine Chess Federation. The major sponsors who made the tournament possible were Nescafe, PLDT, Milo and Carlsberg.

Round 1

The July 1990 FIDE Rating List was faxed in before the first round soon enough to be made use of but late enough to cause a slight uproar among the participants. Mostly those whose ratings plummeted, were against the idea of using the new ratings for the pairings. In an emergency meeting, FIDE President Campomanes cited his discretionary powers in deciding that the new ratings, being more representative of the players' strengths, should be used.

Gelfand, therefore joined Ivanchuk, the erstwhile top seed at 2680, the third highest in the world. All of the players with tied ratings drew lots for their pairing numbers. Ominously enough, Gelfand picked no. 1. But in the first round, he managed only a draw against Dzindzichashvili.

Murray Chandler provided the tournament's first sensation by bringing down the highly touted Ivanchuk in a wonderful attacking game (See game below annotated by the winner). Coming from a hectic tournament grind that included three strong tournaments with almost only flight time in between as rest, the former New Zealand prodigy hardly showed any sign of fatigue as he shackled Ivanchuk's French Defense in methodical fashion.

In another supposed mismatch, unheralded El Taher (in Egyptian, it means "the tiger") capitalized on a blunder by Smyslov in the early phase of the game to capture a piece and upset the former World Champion.

In a battle of Western hopefuls, Nigel Short outlasted Hjartarson in a drawn-out Knight and pawn endgame to signal his campaign for one of the top 11 slots. Hjartarson was seeking to duplicate his sensational triumph three years ago when he shared first with Salov at the 1987 Szirak Interzonal.

Gata Kamsky, the youngest participant at 16 years old and the only untitled player with a 2650 Elo was nominated into the interzonal by FIDE Deputy President of the Americas, Rafael Tudela of Venezuela. In the first round he served notice by outwitting GM Ftacnik of Czechoslovakia.

The Filipinos, drew their matches against highly favored Soviet grandmasters.

Round 2

Torre overlooked a simple combination that allowed the wily Korchnoi to win a pawn and seize the initiative. Korchnoi had no difficulty converting his advantage into a win. After drawing Alexei Shirov of the USSR in the first round, Mascarinas claimed another "upset draw" against a strong grandmaster in the second round. He and Miles split the point after a quiet Double Fianchetto Opening.

Short, fresh from his prestige-laden win over Hjartarson in the previous round, succumbed to the American Nick De Firmian who scored his second straight victory. The 1st round giant killer, El Taher, was brought back to his senses by Predrag Nikolic, who demolished him in 44 moves of a Pirc. Gurevich, considered as definitely one of the strongest players in the Soviet contingent, showed no respect for Tal whom he defeated in a Tarrasch variation of the Queen's Gambit Declined.

In a battle of the two reigning Asian Zone champions (Zones 10 and 11), Anand sacrificed his Queen for minor pieces to defeat Ye Rongguang and cement his claim to being the strongest player in the whole of Asia today. Portisch stopped Chandler cold with a victory in a Queen's Indian.

1.e4 e5 2.Nf3 Nc6 3.Bb5 Nf6 4.O-O Nxe4 5.d4 Nd6 6.Bxc6 dxc6 7.dxe5 Nf5

[7... Ne4 deserves testing.]

8.Qxd8 Kxd8 9.Rd1!

[A new move. The game Benjamin-Torre, Thessaloniki 1988 continued with 9.b3 h6

10.Bb2 Be6 11.c4!?]

9... Ke8

[The only move. If then 9... Bd7, White obtains lasting pressure on Black's King's position by 10.Ng5 Nh6 (only move) 11.e6 fxe6 12.Nxe6 Ke7 13.Nxc7 Rc8 14.Bg5]

10.Nc3 h6 11.h3! Be7

[White obviously has a very pleasant position after 11... Be6 12.g4 Ne7 13.Nd4 Bd7 (On 13... Bd5 14.Nxd5 White is clearly better.) 14.Kg2 (intending f4)]

12.Ne2!

[With the intention of Nf4-h5]

12... g5

[Perhaps Black should try 12... Be6, but White retains the advantage after 13.Nf4 g5 14.Nxe6 fxe6 15.g4]

13.b3!

[Here 13.g4 is not advisable as Black can cook up some counterplay with Ng7 with the idea of Ne6.]

13... Be6

[13... a5 is met by 14.a4 b5? 15.g4 and Black would not be happily placed.]

14.g4 Ng7

[After 14... Nh4 White continues with 15.Nxh4 gxh4 16.Nf4 to be followed by Nh5 retaining the better position.]

15.Ng3 c5

[It goes without saying that White is clearly in the advantage after 15... Rd8 16.Rxd8 followed by Nd4.]

16.Ne4 Rd8

[On 16... b6 White has 17.Nf6 with the harmonious plan of Bb2, Rd2, Rad1, and Nd5.]

17.Ba3! Bd5?

[17... b6 merits consideration. However, after 18.Nf6 Kf8 19.Rxd8 Bxd8 20.Rad1 Black's position would not have been enviable.]

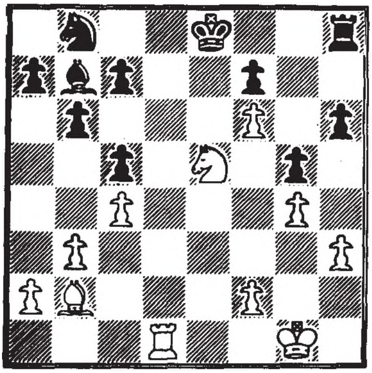
18.Nf6 Bxf6 19.exf6 Ne6

[The continuation 19... Bxf3 20.fxg7 Rg8 21.Rxd8 Kxd8 22.Bb2 would naturally have been worse for Black.]

20.Ne5 b6 21.c4! Bb7 22.Rxd8 Nxd8 23.Rd1 Nc6 24.Bb2! Nb8

[In reply to 24... h5 White has 25.Rd7 Nxe5 26.Re7 Kd8 27.Bxe5 hxg4 28.Rxc7 Bf3 29.Rxf7 with an excellent game.]



Yudasin-Rogers
Position after 24... Nb8

25.Ng6! Rg8

[Naturally, not 25... fxg6 on account of 26.f7; nor would the continuation 25... Rh7 26.Nf8! Rh8 27.Ne6! with the threat of Rd8 and Nxc7 be good for Black.]

26.Ne7 Rh8

[If 26... Rf8 there could follow 27.Be5 Nc6 28.Bxc7 Nxe7 23.Rd8 mate.]

27.Be5 Nc6 28.Nxc6!

[White could also maintain his advantage with 28.Bxc7 even if Black replies with 28... Nd4]

28... Bxc6 29.Bxc7 Bd7 30.f3! h5

[The only move.]

31.Kh2! hxg4 32.fxg4 Rh6 33.Rd6

[Now White has a winning game.]

33... Rg6 34.Kg3 Rh6 35.a3 Rg6 36.b4 Rh6

[On 36... cxb4; 37.axb4 intending c5-c6 is decisive.]

37.b5 Rg6 38.a4 Rh6 39.Bb8 Be6

[Another way to lose is 39... Kd8 40.Bxa7 Kc7 41.Rxb6]

40.Bxa7 Rxf6 41.a5!

[Obviously in vain are 41... Ke7 42.Rxe6 (axb6, b7, b8Q); and 41... Rf4 42.Rxe6 (axb6, b7, b8Q)] 1:0

Round 3

Nikolic is the first solo leader of the tournament as he remained the only player with a perfect score of 3 points. In the third round, he caught a big fish by the name of Mikhail Gurevich. After the game, he declared that it was one of those times when he really felt good and that he could beat anybody.

Torre scored his first victory in three tries today as he disposed off Afifi of Egypt. Mascarinas coasted to his third straight draw against Arencibia, the surprise winner of the 1987 World Juniors.

The Soviet contingent absorbed stinging setbacks when Vaganian, the reigning Soviet champion lost to the 18-year-old Michael Adams while Yoga-freak Yudasin stumbled against the even younger Joel Lautier.

Gelfand avenged the humiliation of Soviet juniors in the hands of Viswanathan Anand at previous World Junior campaigns when he outplayed the latter in a positional game in the third round. It was Anand's first defeat.

Meanwhile, the rallying Ivanchuk claimed his second straight victory.

SHIROV SPASOV

1.d4 Nf6 2.c4 g6 3.Nc3 Bg7 4.e4 d6 5.Be2 O-O 6.Nf3 e5 7.O-O Nc6 8.d5 Ne7 9.Ne1 Nd7 10.Nd3 f5 11.Bd2 Nf6 12.f3 f4 13.c5

[The old main line. More popular nowadays is 13.g4 preventing Black from a quick kingside attack. Since the aggressive attempt 13... h5 14.g5 Nh7 15.h4 Nxg5 16.hxg5 Nf5 17.Rf2 Qxg5 18.Rg2 Ng3 19.Nf2 Qf6 leads to nowhere after 20.Bf1 g5 21.Rh2 according to Lautier while 13... fxg3 14.hxg3, leaves Black without a follow-up, 13... g5 is supposed to be the best reply here. A recent game for this is Khalifman-Spasov from the 7th round: 14.Be1 h5 15.h3 Ng6 16.c5 Rf7 17.cxd6 cxd6 18.Rc1 Bf8 19.Bf2 Rh7 20.Qb3 hxg4 21.hxg4 Nh4 22.Bxh4 Rxh4 23.Nf2 a6 24.a4 Rh7 with only a slight edge for White, although he won the game later.]

13... g5 14.Rc1 Ng6 15.cxd6 cxd6 16.Nf2

[This appears to me to be a mixture of two ideas. The main continuation is 16.Nb5 Rf7 17.Qc2 Ne8 18.a4 h5 19.Nf2 Bf8 and if 20.Nxa7 then 20... Rc7 21.Ba5 Rxc2 22.Bxd8 Rxe2 23.Nxc8 Rxa4! with an equal endgame but not 23... Rxb2? because of 24.a5! and White stands better. Therefore another plan with 14.cxd6 cxd6 15.Nf2 deserves attention with the idea of 15... h5 16.h3 Ng6 17.Qc2 Rf7 18.Rfc1 and if Black plays the careless 18... Bf8? then 19.Nb5 Ne8 20.a4 Rg7 21.Nxa7! Rc7 22.Ba5 Rxc2 23.Bxd8 Rxe2 24.Nxc8 Rxb2 25.a5! with strong pressure on the queenside. Better seems to be 18... a6 or even 18... g4.]

16... Rf7 17.a4

[Worse is 17.Nb5?! because of 17... a6! 18.Na3 b5 19.Qe1 h5 20.Ba5 Qf8 21.h3 g4 22.fxg4 hxg4 23.Nxg4 Bxg4 24.Bxg4 Nxg4 25.hxg4 Bf6 26.Qe2 Bh4 27.Rc3 Bg3 28.g5 Qe7 29.Qh5? Qa7 0:1 Gligoric-Quinteros, Novi Sad 1982.]

17... h5 18.h3 Bf8 19.Nb5 Nh4

[Now 19... Ne8 is bad due to 20.Qb3! and Rc2, Rfc1 winning a tempo in comparison to the main lines with Qc2 and Qb3. A transposition to the game is 19... Rg7.]

20.a5

[20.Rc3 was seen in Zaltsman-Evans, USA (ch) 1980 and after 20... Rg7 21.Be1 a6 22.Na3 Bd7 23.a5 Rc8 24.Nc4 Bb5 25.Nb6 Rxc3 White should have played 26.bxc3! threatening with c4-c5, but 21... Kh8 deserves attention. If 20.Qc2 then Black cannot answer with 20... Ne8 on account of 21.Nxa7 Rc7 22.Ba5 Rxc2 23.Bxd8 Rxe2 24.Nxc8 Rxa4 25.Bxg5! and 21.Nc7 is a big threat but 20... g4! 21.fxg4 hxg4 22.hxg4 Rg7 is strong enough.]

20... Rg7 21.Bb4

[21.Qc2 is late: 21... g4 22.fxg4 hxg4 23.hxg4 Nxg4 24.Bxg4 Bxg4 25.Nxg4 Rxg4 with an attack for Black. Editors' note: According to GM Yudasin the text move is weak. He suggests 21.Be1! and after 21... g4 22.fxg4 hxg4 23.Nxg4 Nxg4 24.Bxg4 Bxg4 25.hxg4 White stands better.]

21... g4

[A stronger continuation here was 21... a6! 22.Na3 (or Nc3) b5 with the idea of Qe7-a7—Yudasin]

22.fxg4 hxg4 23.hxg4

I GOT FULL QUEEN!

23... Nh5!

[A nice tactical blow. Other attacking moves are inadequate: 23... Nxg2? 24.Rxc8!; or 23... Bxg4? 24.Nxg4 Nxg4 25.Bxg4 Qg5 26.Be6 Kh8 27.g4!, and 25... Nxg2 26.Be6 Kh8 27.Qh5 Rh7 28.Qg4 Rg7 29.Kxg2.]

24.Nc7

[The only move—Yudasin. White cannot accept the sacrifice: 24.gxh5? Nxg2 and Ne3, and 24.Rxc8? loses to 24... Rxc8 25.gxh5 Nxg2 26.Bg4 Ne3 27.Qf3 Qh4]

24... Nxg2!

[With the threat of Ne3—Yudasin. Less effective are 24... Rb8 25.Ne6 Bxe6 26.dxe6 Ng3 27.Re1 and 24... Rxc7 25.Rxc7 Qxc7 26.gxh5 Qg7 27.g4 fg3 28.Ng4]

Anand not bothered by Sax's intensity

Round 4

Gyula Sax doused Nikolic's hot start of three straight victories with a victory against the Pirc to lead a Hungarian charge at the top. Portisch defeated former candidate Kevin Spraggett of Canada to join Sax and Lautier at the lead. Lautier scored his second career win in as many tries over Michael Adams, his current rival for leadership among Western young hopefuls.

Mascarinas blundered away a winning game against Yudasin in extreme time pressure. He suffered his first loss. Torre failed to capitalize on his one-pawn advantage against the young Shirov and settled for a draw after two adjournments. In the post-mortem, he pointed out that his 54th move blew away his winning chances.

Recovering after his first round loss, Ivanchuk posted his third straight victory at the expense of De Firmian.

IVANCHUK DE FIRMIAN

1.d4 Nf6 2.c4 e6 3.Nc3 Bb4 4.Qc2 c5

[Other moves here are: 4... O-O, 4... d5, 4... d6]

5.dxc5 Na6

[Interesting is 5... Bc5 6.Nf3 Qb6 (6... Qc7!) 7.e3 Qc7 with the idea of a Hedgehog formation with a6, Be7, d6, O-O, b6, Bb7, N8d7.]

6.a3 Bxc3 7.Qxc3 Nxc5 8.b4!

[According to Ivanchuk, White gets a slight edge after 8.f3 a5! 9.b3 d6 10.e4 O-O 11.Be3]

8... Nce4 9.Qd4

[The only move, since after 9.Qc2? d5! 10.c5 Nxf2 11.Kxf2 Ne4 12.Ke1 Qf6 would give Black a winning attack.]

9... d5

[Ivanchuk considers 9... h6 as dubious.]

10.c5

[Again the only move. If 10.cxd5, Black stands better after 10... exd5 11.f3 Nd6 12.e3 O-O with the intention of Re8 followed by Nf5.]

10... b6!

[A new idea.]

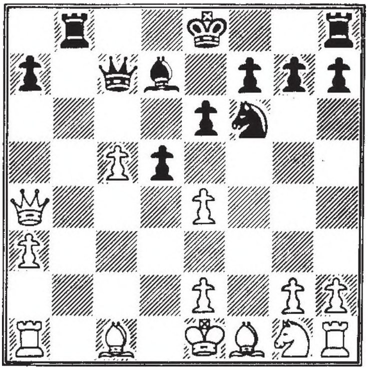
11.f3 bxc5 12.bxc5 Qa5!

[It is difficult to say what will happen after 12... Qc7!? 13.fxe4 e5 14.Qa4 Bd7 15.c6 Bxc6 16.Qc2. Also 12... O-O 13.fxe4 e5 is unclear (Gufeld).]

13.Qb4 Qc7 14.fxe4 Rb8?!

[Black might do better with 14... Nxe4!? and if 15.Nf3 (Not 15.Rb1? O-O! with the idea of Bd7 followed by Rb8) Black has 15... O-O with compensation for the material deficit.]

15.Qa4 Bd7



Ivanchuk-De Firmian

16.c6!!

16... O-O

[On 16... Bxc6, 17.Qc2 is in White's favor.]

Round 5

The Hungarians drew their game as expected. Lautier, the whiz kid whose mother incidentally is Japanese, met his master today as Gelfand outplayed him in the endgame. Ivanchuk finally caught up with the lead pack with his fourth consecutive victory today. His latest victim was Nikolic from the black side of a Dutch.

Meanwhile, in a battle among Asians, Mascarinas, who did not play in the Zonal Championship which Ye Rongguang won, took the measure of the latter with the English Opening. For Mascarinas, it was his first win in this tournament, and his first career win against Ye.

Torre got short-circuited again today as he lost to his nemesis, Nigel Short. Following the line with which Short lost to Damljanovic in a previous round, Torre got a jolt when Short sprang a Knight sacrifice. After the game, Short commented that it was best for Torre to have accepted the Knight, although it would still have been a difficult game for the Filipino.

Round 6

As his erstwhile co-leaders drew, Ivanchuk grabbed the solo lead with a win over Portisch, his fifth straight since his first round loss. Gelfand, Gurevich, and Sax held on to the 2nd to 4th positions. Gurevich, joined the pack after subduing Simen Agdestein, the Nordic champion who is also a member of Norway's national soccer team. Dreev crept up with a time forfeit win over Damljanovic, once considered as the strongest non-GM in the world.

De Firmian delighted the gallery and stole some of the shine from the leaders with his fantastic sacrificial game against fellow American Anthony Miles (formerly of England). The game is regarded by many as the most brilliant of the tournament. Hence, it is the favorite to win the top brilliancy prize of Swiss Francs 2,250, one of two awards, donated by Hasan of Indonesia. The second prize was worth 750 Swiss francs. The grandmasters were given two weeks to submit their entries. The prizes will be awarded at the 1990 Olympiad in Novi Sad, Yugoslavia.

Mascarinas frittered away an advantageous endgame against Salov and then lost in a heartbreaking finish.

[Normally in this line Black sacrifices a piece, but this pawn sacrifice is an inspired idea gaining active play for a minor material investment.]

10.b4

[10.e4 is bad because of 10... exd5 11.e5 d4! and if 12.Bb5 Bd7 13.Qd4 Bb5 is crushing. Accepting the pawn sacrifice is also dangerous as after 10.dxe6 Bxe6 the b3 square is terribly weak.]

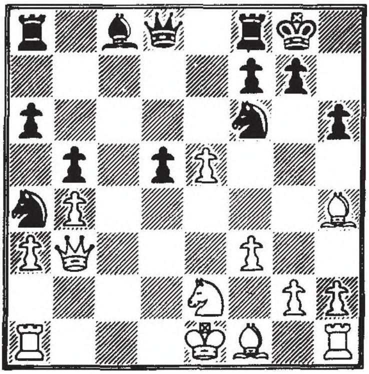
10... Na4 11.Qb3 b5 12.e4 a6 13.Ne2?!

[White is playing for a blockade on d4 after 13... exd5 14.e5 but the plan is time consuming and retards White's development. After 13.Bd3 exd5 14.e5 Qe7 15.f4 Ne4 16.Nf3! White should be able to consolidate.]

13... O-O 14.Bg5

[It is still extremely dangerous to take the pawn: 14.dxe6 Bxe6 15.Qd1 Qe7 16.Nd4 Rfd8 17.Be3 Ne4! and White is in trouble.]

14... h6 15.Bh4 exd5 16.e5



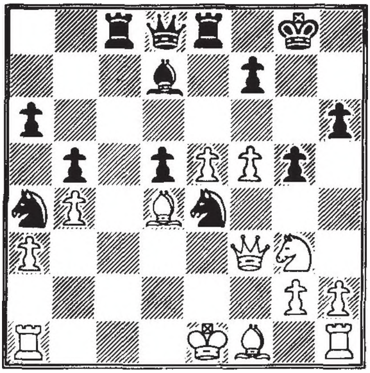
Miles-De Firmian
Position after 16.e5

16... Re8!! 17.f4

[A practical decision. 17.exf6 d4! 18.Rd1 Bf5 is obviously very dangerous for White, e.g.: 19.g4 Bh7 20.Kf2 d3 21.Kg2 Rc8 and White still cannot develop his pieces.]

17... g5 18.Bf2 Ne4 19.Bd4 Be6 20.Qf3?

[The threat of 21.f5 looks impressive but it was high time to bring the White King into safety with 20.g3, Bg2, O-O.] 20... Rc8 21.f5 Bd7 22.Ng3



Miles-De Firmian
Position after 22.Ng3

22... Rxe5!! 23.Be2

[Taking the Rook is fatal, e.g. 23.Be5 Qe7 24.Be2 Qe5 25.O-O Nd2; or 24.Bd4 Ng3 25.Kf2 Nh1 26.Kg1 Qe4 etc.]

23... Qe8! 24.Nh5

[24.O-O loses to 24... Ng3 25.Be5 Ne2 26.Qe2 f6]

24... Rxf5 25.Qe3 Rc3!

[By eliminating White's best piece Black destroys any resistance.]

26.Bxc3 Naxc3 27.Bg4 d4! 28.Qxd4 Nc5!

[Winning White's Queen. The rest of the game was a furious time-scramble.]

29.Kd2 Nb3 30.Kxc3 Nxd4 31.Bxf5 Qe3

32.Bd3 Bf5 33.Rad1 Ne2 34.Kc2 Qe5! 35.Kd2 Qb2 36.Ke3 Bg4 37.Rd2 Qd4 0:1

[A spectacular exhibition by De Firmian!]

Round 7

Ivanchuk maintained his half-point lead over his nearest pursuers as he drew with Gelfand. Korchnoi and three Soviets won their seventh round games to join the second pack. Korchnoi beat Lautier, who was now dangerously being left behind. Yudasin drubbed Portisch who absorbed his 2nd straight loss to a Soviet. Dreev and Dolmatov won against Georgiev and Lputian, respectively.

Rico Mascarinas lost to the Australian Ian Rogers in a King's Indian. At this point, it was generally thought that Rico had blown his last chance at qualifying for the candidates. Even if he swept his remaining games, he would still be a half point away.

Salov and Thipsay withdrew after this round because of illness. The Soviet was believed to have been infected with chicken pox.

Round 8

Gurevich pulled himself abreast of Ivanchuk at the lead when he overcame fellow Soviet Dolmatov. Ivanchuk was held to a draw by Korchnoi. Of the pack chasing them, two Yugoslavs are the new arrivals: Nikolic who triumphed over Short and Damljanovic who won over Ehlvest.

Torre got a much needed lift today when he vanquished newly crowned American champion, Stuart Rachels, in a Ruy Lopez game. Mascarinas, on the other hand continued his downward slide when he was blasted off the board by Marin's kingside attack. Lautier recovered some lost ground when he outlasted Vaganian but he was still a whole point away from the lead pack. Elsewhere, Seirawan settled to his 7th draw out of 8 games. It was clear that the American, who is of Syrian descent, was still biding his time and conserving energy. In contrast, Sax was fighting tooth and nail for the full point in every game.

Round 9

Gelfand makes it a Soviet triumvirate at the top position when he clobbered Nikolic to join Ivanchuk and Gurevich at 6.5 points. Korchnoi, Dreev, Sax and Damljanovic drew with each other to maintain their posts at second position.

Dolmatov and De Firmian pulled up to the same score of 6.0 points with victories over Ljubojevic and Yudasin. De Firmian's victory over Yudasin was a mere 23 moves as he flashed again the brilliance that wowed the crowd in a previous round game against Miles.

Seirawan, as if following some pre-tournament strategy, finally made his move to join the leaders with a win over Popovic. After being quiet for so long, he is now in the third pack of 8 players.

Round 10

The picture at the top was unchanged as the leaders elected to play it safe and drew with each other. It was still Gelfand, Gurevich and Ivanchuk with 7 points. Half a point behind was an 8-man pack that included Short, Dolmatov, Damljanovic, Korchnoi, Dreev, Sax, Huebner, and Yudasin.

Huebner stepped over a faltering De Firmian, Yudasin netted his point from Ehlvest while Short stopped a rallying Seirawan with a very elegant positional victory in a Caro-Kann. In a battle of young GMs, Anand employed an awkward looking pet variation of the Sicilian with which he has been very successful lately and won over Lautier.

In what appeared as a symbolic battle between youth and experience, the game between Gata Kamsky, the youngest participant at 16 with Vassily Smyslov, the oldest at 69 ended in a draw after 40 moves.

Torre bowed out of the race for candidate seats today as he lost with the Black side of a King's Indian to the Soviet Smbat Lputian. Torre had equal chances when he blundered away a piece in the middle game. Mascarinas on the other hand sank to the lowest rung of the tournament table as he lost to Ivanovic.

Round 11

Short draws punctuated the top of the tournament table as the leaders coasted along. The trio of Gelfand, Ivanchuk, and Gurevich maintained their half-point lead. Of those in second position, Anand and Khalifman came from below as they jumped from the third pack by scoring victories over Miles and Damljanovic, respectively. For Anand, it was sweet revenge as he lost a miniature game to Miles two months earlier at the Rome Open.

Adams bounced back into contention with a short snappy win over Lputian's French Defense. Shirov also gained ground by defeating Lautier. Similarly Hjartarson and Agdestein were steadily climbing up.

Round 12

While his co-leaders drew, Ivanchuk surged ahead with a surprising victory over compatriot Khalifman. Had he drawn, Ivanchuk would probably still qualify and the chances for Khalifman would also have been preserved. It appeared that the Soviet contingent was not as solid as it seemed. While the 10th round draws among Ivanchuk and Dolmatov and Gelfand and Gurevich were viewed with suspicion by some quarters as contrived, the Ivanchuk-Khalifman and the 13th round game by Gelfand against Ehlvest pointed to the possibility of rival cliques in the Soviet group. Ivanchuk thus became the first qualifier for the Candidates' matches.

Gelfand and Anand occupied the second position. Anand had a great game against Gurevich. He confided to reporters after the game that initially, he entertained only thoughts of drawing against Gurevich but as the game progressed it became more and more like he would win it. Playing very fast, Anand had Gurevich time-starved in a short while. The Ukrainian grandmaster lost in the Rook and pawn endgame.

Hjartarson and Rechlis continued to chase the leaders. The Icelander won today against Agdestein while Rechlis upended Miles. Both needed a win in the last round to qualify.

The Bulgarians: Mr. and Mrs. Kiril Georgiev with 1989 World Junior Champion Vasil Spasov.

In an unexpected development, Gelfand eliminated his countryman, Jaan Ehlvest in the last round and crowned himself champion. He had the same score of 9.0 points as Ivanchuk, who drew with Anand, but a higher tie-break gave him the edge over Ivanchuk.

An odd thing occurred today. Ivanchuk was heard to have screamed, possibly in dismay, in the comfort room of the stadium, surprising the stewards who heard it. One official rushed to find out what the matter was but Ivanchuk was all alone and apparently only he knew why he did it. He did not explain.

Anand, Korchnoi, Sax, Huebner, Yudasin, Dreev, Dolmatov qualified the easy way by drawing their games with each other.

Gurevich needing a draw in the last two rounds failed to get it. He was booted out of the last candidate seat by Short who played a masterful endgame a la Rubinstein. At the lead for most of the tournament, Gurevich's sensational collapse in the last two rounds installed him as the heartbreak kid of the tournament.

Nikolic snuffed out the last chance of Adams as he outmaneuvered the English teen-aged grandmaster in a Ruy Lopez. Thus Nikolic qualified for the last berth. In a battle between Yugoslavs, Damljanovic missed a win against Ljubojevic and when the game ended in a draw, both lost their chances for a candidate seat. The same thing happened to Khalifman and Shirov.

Torre had a fine positional win against Portisch. Rogers lost his way against the reigning world junior champion from Bulgaria, Vasil Spassov.

As the curtain for this tournament falls, the stage is being set for an even bigger event — the Swiss francs 4.1 million world championship between Karpov and Kasparov. The match will be played in two cities, Lyon in France and New York in the USA. This is the culmination of the championship cycle with three interzonals which began three years ago.

1990 Men's Interzonal

THE INTERZONAL ...

Never in history, has chess talent of such level been so concentrated in one event. Three years ago, the world's strongest grandmasters were distributed among three parallel interzonals. Now there is only one.

The 1990 Men's Interzonal in Manila is a historic event. As in many ground-breaking events, its inception is not without accompanying birth pains. Some grandmasters bewailed the format. Naturally, the less sure prefer the older system where sometimes one can be lucky to get into a relatively weaker grouping. But this time, everybody gets to play in the same group. Everybody has the same chance as anybody else. As the results clearly show, the best players did win.

This book contains all the 410 games of this mammoth event! It is the biggest collection of games that Chess Asia has ever published. It is more complete and more accurate than the official tournament bulletins which in the rush of production contained some inaccuracies.

Some of the games are accompanied by annotations from GMs Leonid Yudasin, Murray Chandler, Ian Rogers, and IM Lazslo Hazai. Play them over and feel the strength of the grandmasters seep through your game.

Brilliant combinations, sharp opening novelties which you can use in your games and precise endgame plays abound in this collector's item. Some of the novelties that you will see in this book were secretly prepared by teams of theoreticians over many months, unused by players during ordinary tournaments and sprang only here in this event.

Remember, a collection like this can only come once every three years.
